1) Read the passage and answer the questions given below:

The history of Chinese tea is a story of gradual refinement. Generations of growers and producers have perfected the Chinese way of manufacturing tea and its many unique variations.

The original idea is credited to the legendary Emperor Shennong. His orders required that drinking water be boiled as a hygienic precaution. A story goes that one summer day while visiting a distant part of his kingdom, he and the court stopped to rest. In accordance with his ruling, the servants began to boil water for the court to drink & dried leaves from a nearby bush fell into the boiling water, and a brown substance got infused into the water. As a scientist, the emperor was interested in the new liquid, drank some and found it very refreshing.

And so, according to the legend tea was created in 2737 BC. Tea is an important part of the Chinese tradition. The main varieties of Chinese tea are green tea, red tea (black tea), Wulong tea, white tea, yellow tea and reprocessed tea)
